"The man that hath no music in himself Nor is not move'd with concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for treasons , strategems, and spoils; The motions of his spirit are dull as night, And his affections dark as Erebus: Let no such man be trusted."
--William Shakespeare

Reflections

Well, better late than never. This newsletter is a day late, but I’m also a day more rested so I hope that makes up for it.

Everything towards the end of the year exceeded my expectations. Our performances were superb, our accomplishments were many, and our pride grew. Thank you to everyone who has made the beginning of the year so smoothly.

BandFest

On 12/30/04, the Tournament of Roses will be sponsoring “Band Fest.” Band fest features many of the prize-winning bands of the 2005 Rose Parade who will perform the field shows that made them famous. Three shows over two days give everyone a chance to see these talented performers in action. Since we have three CV students participating in the Tournament of Roses Honor Band this year, I thought it would great to plan a day for CV students to see the various bands perform.

We are planning to go on Thursday December 30th at the 2:30 p.m. show. Gates open to the public at 2:00 p.m. Tickets are $5.00 each IF I BUY THEM AT THE GATE. If you would like to go on this day, please email me and let me know how many people will be going. I’ll make a list and see who needs rides.
